

Big Five Personality Test Results

Openness: NaN%

A score below 20 reflects very low openness. You strongly prefer facts over theories, stability over experimentation, and routine over exploration. You likely excel in rule-based, highly structured environments. You may excel in highly rule-bound and fact-focused careers such as auditing, banking, or compliance, where tradition and accuracy are key.

Conscientiousness: NaN%

A score below 20 reflects very low conscientiousness. You resist external control, rules, or structure and work best when free from deadlines. Routine and discipline may feel stifling. You may excel in highly independent and unstructured creative roles such as visual arts or filmmaking.

Extraversion: NaN%

A score below 20 shows extreme introversion. You prefer working entirely alone, often in slow-paced, highly independent settings. Minimal interaction is ideal. You may excel in very independent, low-interaction careers such as night security, forest ranger, or solo artistic work.

Agreeableness: 60%

A score around 40 suggests a pragmatic and assertive approach to relationships. You value fairness over niceness and may challenge ideas directly. You're more task-focused than people-pleasing. You may excel in pragmatic, task-focused careers like business consulting, logistics, or software engineering.

Neuroticism: NaN%

A score below 20 reflects exceptional emotional stability. You are nearly unshakable in the face of chaos, pressure, or crisis. You stay focused, rational, and calm when others panic. You may excel in extreme-stress or crisis leadership roles like trauma surgery, military leadership, or crisis negotiation.