

Big Five Personality Test Results

Openness: 50%

Individuals with a score above 40 tend to be moderately open, appreciating new experiences while also valuing familiarity and structure.

Conscientiousness: NaN%

A score below 20 reflects a tendency towards disorganization and lack of follow-through. These individuals are often more relaxed about their responsibilities, may procrastinate, and are less likely to focus on long-term goals. They may prefer flexibility over structure.

Extraversion: 100%

A score greater than 80 indicates a highly extroverted individual who is outgoing, energetic, and thrives in social settings. They are talkative, enjoy being the center of attention, and seek excitement and stimulation in their environment. Extraverts often feel energized when interacting with others and prefer lively, dynamic situations.

Agreeableness: NaN%

A score below 20 suggests low agreeableness, with individuals who may be blunt, skeptical, and less concerned with others' emotions or needs. They are more likely to challenge authority, question others' motives, and prioritize their own interests over maintaining harmony in relationships.

Neuroticism: NaN%

A score below 20 reflects a high level of emotional stability. These individuals tend to stay calm and composed under pressure, rarely experiencing intense negative emotions. They are less likely to get anxious, stressed, or upset and are generally able to handle adversity with ease.