

Big Five Personality Test Results

Openness: 80%

Those scoring above 60 still exhibit a strong inclination toward learning and novelty but maintain a balance between practicality and curiosity.

Conscientiousness: NaN%

A score below 20 reflects a tendency towards disorganization and lack of follow-through. These individuals are often more relaxed about their responsibilities, may procrastinate, and are less likely to focus on long-term goals. They may prefer flexibility over structure.

Extraversion: 60%

A score above 40 reflects a more balanced approach to social interaction. These individuals are neither excessively introverted nor extroverted and enjoy socializing in moderation. They may sometimes prefer quieter, more intimate settings but are capable of engaging in larger social events when needed.

Agreeableness: NaN%

A score below 20 suggests low agreeableness, with individuals who may be blunt, skeptical, and less concerned with others' emotions or needs. They are more likely to challenge authority, question others' motives, and prioritize their own interests over maintaining harmony in relationships.

Neuroticism: NaN%

A score below 20 reflects a high level of emotional stability. These individuals tend to stay calm and composed under pressure, rarely experiencing intense negative emotions. They are less likely to get anxious, stressed, or upset and are generally able to handle adversity with ease.
